IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After the fighting and licans in Congress, the President to-day had the satisfaction of seeing the Cuban Reciprocity Bill enacted into law in the United States Senate by principally because two gladiators in debate were in the arena in combat. They were Senator Spooner of Wiscon-sin, who upon the Republican side is without a peer in constitutional law, and Senator Balley of Texas, who surpasses his Democratic colleagues as a student and expounder of the Constitution. Those two clashed early in the day, and were at it almost onstantly until the time came for taking fact, since those great debates when the country was about to enter upon war with Spain, has there been so close following of any debate as was the case today, when Senators Balley and Spooner marshaled their knowledge, wisdom, oratory and sarcasm over the House of Representatives. Their de-bate for most part was without political significance, but late in the day Senator Bailey burst out into political utterances of some consequence, at least to the Democratic party.

To understand what Bailey's utter-anoce means, it must be remembered that for five or six years the Democrais in the Senate have been split in-to factions, wandering hither and thither, without definite purpose, with-out fighting capacity and without lead-ership. For the last three days they have been heiding daily conferences in an attempt to get together. Their last conference was this morning, and when an Senators that from now or

This declaration by Mr. Bailey means just one thing, and that is of the McKinley iaw and the fact that the Democratic Senators are going to try to embarrass the President for political reasons, and are preparing to make a fight against him on strict party lines, which they have never been able to do yet, and which never been able to do yet, and which never been able to do yet, and which they have for the White House side on this side of the chamber. WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—By the decisive vote of 57 to 18, the Senate today passed the bill carrying into effect the reciprocity treaty with Cubn. The final vote came at the close of the day, which was marked by a debate, which, while at all times animated, was never acrimonious. Both Senator Spooner, for the bill, and Senator Balley, against it, were subjected to frequent interruptions in their remarks. Mr. Bailey acceded to the recent agreement of the Democratic caucus to stand solidly on party questions, and warned the Republicans that in the future they could not detions, and warned the Republicans that in the future they could not depend on straggling Democratic votes in support of Republican party measures, regardless of whether they were ures, regardless of whether they were or were not in accord with Democratic doctrine.

The bill passed carries into execution the treaty between the United States and Cuba which was ratified last March. The treaty provides for a reduction of of 29 per cent. from the rates of duty under the Dingley law on all Cuban articles imported into the United States and a warying reduction of from 20 to 40 per cent. from the established Cuban duty on articles into Cuba from the United States. After the passage of the Cuban bill the Senate agreed to the House resolution providing for a boliday recess from December 19 to January 4.

Central American affairs were discussed in the House tolay, also pensions, industrial and agricultural conditions and labor. The session lasted more than four hours, the House being in committee of the whole almost the entire time on the Pension Appropriation Bill, on which ne conclusion was reached. Mr. Lind (Dem.) of Minnesota, referring to an editorial published in a home paper, which he said, reflected on his relations with Mr. Williams, the minerity leader, stated that he desired to say that his relations with Mr. Williams were of the most cordial character.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION. (BY THE ASSICIATED PRESS—A.M.1
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—SENATE:
When the Benate convened today, Mr.
Spooner spoke on the Cuban Reciprocity Bill. He spoke of the varying poity Bill. He spoke of the varying position of the opponents of the bill, and especially of the introduction of the Newlands bill inviting Cuba to become a part of the United States, deprecating it and saying that he hoped it would be postponed indefinitely, because, he said, sometimes invitations are regarded as commands.

Mr. Spooner said the Newlands resolution was in direct opposition to the Teller resolution. President McKimley had put it all in a sentence when he said that our intervention must not be demanded as an indemnity.

Teller resolution. President McKimley had put it all in a sentence when he said that our intervention must not be demanded as an indemnity. In referring to the House bill of the last session, reducing the duty on sugar, Mr. Spooner spoke of the fact that Mr. Teller had challenged the Republican Senators to pass it, notwithstanding it would have been a deadly blow to the beet-sugar interests. He added his opinion that if Mr. Teller had believed that the challenge would have been accepted, he would not have made it.

Mr. Teller admitted such to have been the case. He did not believe the Republican Senators would have accepted the bill, because it removed the differential duty on refined sugar.

"I did not want to kill the differential," asid Mr. Teller. "It was put on the bill by the House to kill it."

"Then," said Mr. Spooner, "I have developed one thing—"

eveloped one thing—"

"That the challenge was a bluff," said Mr. Teller, taking the words out of the Wisconsin Senator's mouth.

"Then," continued Mr. Spooner, "the charges againgt us are inconsistent."

Mr. Teller referred to the influences behind the bill, which, she said, were those not only of the sugar trust, but those of the executive officers.

Mr. Spooner declared that none of the Senators had surrendered his ondependence, and he did not consider such a charge as courteous to fellow-Senators.

"I resent," he said, "the notion that the Executive can follow a bill into the Senate, and I have never known an Executive who violated his own office by invading other departments of the government."

He added, however, that he, with others, had resented the propagands of a year ago in the interest of reciprocity.

"I did not." he said, "like to receive communications from officers of the of a year ago in the interest of reciprocity.

"I did not," he said, "like to receive communications from officers of the United States serving in Cuba, instructing us as to our duty."

Mr. Spooner also discussed the effect of the adontion by Cuba of the Platt amendment as a part of the Cuban Constitution, and said it should remain there forever for Cuba's own protection, both as arainst foreign foes and against insurrection. He contended that the Platt measure in no wise decorates from Cuba's indenendence. He expressed the opinion that the United States owned the Isle of Pines.

"The Cubans a'so think they own it." he said, "but we had not opened a bantacount with the Goddess of Liberty when we freed Cuba, and could not afford to hargle like a shon keeper overmatters with that resulting."

FINISH AND VOTE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senator Hoar said he did not believe in the policies of treaties affecting the the tariff, and contended that direct legislation was easier of accomplishment than the exchange of treaties. Mr. Hoar also said that because of his oppetition to this method he had found it difficult to secure his own assent to support the bill. Mr. Hoar objected to the claim that promises had been made to Cuba, and confessed that he had not looked with favor upon the statement made by the President in his message to the effect that a failure to pass the bill would amount almost a breach of faith. Still, he added, he did not intend to let this objection interfere with his support of the bill. Mr. Bailey discussed the constitutional questions involved in the bill, maintaining that the House had the exclusive right to originate rev.n.e lesislation and had no power over treatles.

Mr. Bailey discussed at some length

Republican aide of the chamber, "you will hereafter get no Senators' votes for the White House side on this side of the chamber. You will have to take care of yourselves in the future."

This statement was accepted as a direct reference to the decision of the Semocratic caucus to stand as a unit on all measures agreed upon by a two-thirds vote of the gaucus and caused quick interest.

Mr. Bailey entered on a defense of unity of action on part" measures, calling attention/to the party's long retention in power when united before the Civil War.

"I have no patience with a muswump," he said, end added, "when a man thinks he knows more than his narty, he should get out of the party; for him to remain after reaching such a conclusion must be bad, either for him or his party."

At 4:45 o'clock the vote on the final nessage of the bill was taken. President Pro Tem. Frye announced the passage of the bill by a vote of 57 to 18. After passing a resolution for adjournment for the holidays, the Senate adjourned.

When the House convened today, consideration of the Pensions Appropriation Bill was resumed in committee of the whole. Mr. Gibson (Rep.) of Tennessee being the first speaker.

Mr. Bassett (Dem.) of New York spoke briefly on the Panama question saying that what the country wants to know is if the course pursued has been properly taken, and with a view to doing justice.

Mr. Dinsmere (Dem.) of Arkansas, replying to remarks made by Mr. Hitt (Rep.) of Illinois last week, said he had not charged the administration with lawlessness, but had conscientiously described the act as he understood it to have been done. He renewed his contentions that it was the duty of

I will certify that all the Democrats and all the Republican would give President Roosevelt withering execration and hissing and scorning if he submitted to that blackmail."

Mr. Hitt said the President had been accused of being too slow, then with oeing too fast. The President had only done his duty in preserving peace on the isthmus, as he was charged to do under the treaty. There was no other

Mr. Birdaali (Rep.) of Iowa, who succeeded former Speaker Henderson, compared industrial and agricultural conditions under the Democratic and Republican administrations. He was followed by Mr. Livernash of California, who spoke on the labor question. He said labor believed that some great wrong principle existed which needs remedying. It had been proposed that a Congressional committee be appointed to make a careful inquiry, but he did not want such an inquiry as would be made by the Department of Justice, which, he asserted, persecuted some little concern listead of the Standard Oil or sugar trust, the very air of which was polluting. Nor, he added, such reports as would be made by the Department of Commerce and Labor. He spoke of them as "kid glove" reports because, he sold, he saw evidence of kid gloves and not the ax.

At 4:15 o'clock p.fm. the House adjourned until tomorrow.

This statement was made today by Cyrus Sulloway, chairman of the House Committee on Pensions. He was talking about the so-called pension abuses, and was referring particularly to the charge that the pension rolls are loaded down with names placed there by special acts of Congress in instances where the Pension Office would never have passed the claims.

"If the people really knew how little money is expended by the government in paying pensions to persone placed on the rolls by private acts," said Chairman Sulloway, "they would be greatly surerised. Why, actually, the money drawn by these pensioners the money drawn by these pensioners is not much more than Representatives spend every year for oysters and cigars. Certainly it would not begin to pay the expenses of a first-class Congressional funeral or other junket. An gressional funeral or other junket. An examination of the pension reports for the past few years will prove this. For instance, in 1900 the cost of pensions allowed by set of Congress was $117,000; in 1899, if was $45,000, Last year it was $182,000, and in 1901 it was $129.

The whole matter was referred to the War Department by Gen. Wood. The subject was first considered by Judge Magoon's opinion, and came to the same conclusion. WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs tonight concluded its investigation and will meet to morrow to prepare its report. It is understood in at confirmation will be recommended by a vote of 8 to 2.

A minority report will be made by the opposing members of the committee. The testimony of Secretary Root is, practically the only defense that has been made of Gen. Wood in the hearing, which has extended since about the beginning of the extra sension of Congress. This testimony, however, covered the entire range of evidence produced against Gen. Wood, and was supported in many instances with correspondence and other data subseou. Aly taken from records at the War Department covering the period of Gen. Wood's administration as Governor-General of Cubs.

At the forencon session of the committee, Secretary Root was given every latitude in telling his stories of affairs in the island and of rending charges that had been made by a number of witnesses, but at the svening session questions were assed by Senator Teller which confined the Secretary to the Runcle letter, the Jal
Alai concession, the Rathbons trial
Gen. Wood's friendship for Bellairs and the question of seniority as a means of recognising military service.
Many of the questions were pointed,
and in some cases severe upon Gen.
Wood but in every case Gen. Wood found a warm defender in the Secretary.

The slave-traders and their allies must not be allowed to make a mere pretense of submission to the law and the authorines, while establishing themselves in locations that they may fancy to be more secure.

more secure. Assurance Association, which advertises dividends of 27 per cent. per quarter, or 108 per cent a year, boldly declaring in red ink that "we give our investors all the profits," a declaration which one would think enough to queer the concern in the eyes of any sensible man. But the Metropolitan Assurance Association is catching suckers in Los Angeles every day.

Why would it not be a good iden for the grand jury to wade into these get-rich-quick companies? What better service could it do the public than to summon their managers and agents before them and make a thorough investigation of their methods? Their business has reached a stage demanding omicial attention. Their sly solicitors are invading the schools and churches as well as the stores. The Ministers' Union recently took occapartment and to tae police department. It is a well-known fact that the average man whole joins a union becomes strongly and unreasonably prejudiced, by reason of such alliance, against all men who do not belong to unions. This unreasonable prejudice often leads to the commission of offenses which would not otherwise be committed. A peaceable, law-abiding. honest citizen is often transformed by the union virus into a lawbreaker, a thug, or a criminal.

The durches as well as the stores. The durches as well as the stores. The durches as well as the stores. The Ministers' Union recently took occation than this.

MUST DO COMIC STUNT. Important Decision Regarding Theatrical Contracts Handed Down by New York Judge.

THE RANSOM.

There was one sin that I loved most, One wish there was best loved of me— I gave them to a dead man's ghost. To set his poor soul free.

I gave them from my heart's red core, And left it seared and gray with pain, That he might burn in flame no more, Nor walk the night again.

He met me when the stars were deep, His lowly grave near-by was laid— Oft, 'ere he went with death to sleep, In that same spot we strayed.

He met me there with pleading eyes, The same fond, tender eyes of old, And, in my fear and dread surprise, My faltering blood ran cold. He followed me within my door, Nor fied till day began to break, The while he ceased not to implore With lips that could not speak. But when, at length, he went away, Full well I knew what was to be, What ransom it was mine to pay, What boon he asked of me.

And so, with heart grown old in grief, I went where shone the shrine of prayer And plucked my roses, leaf by leaf, And left them lying there.

My wayward soul I shrived full clean, With knout and lash my flesh I flayed, In sackcloth, where dim altars lean, For his soul's pence I prayed.

But, oh, the dear sin, long enticed, Drowned in that dregged and bitter cup; And, oh, that wild wish sacrificed,

"Twould souls of thrice a thousand save,
'Twould fend a kingdom from God's wrath,
Which, to that dead man's ghost I gave, You night he crossed my path.

Long since his happy feet are set Upon the shining streets of gold, But, in his joy, can he forget His debt to me, of old?

Will he forget when my soul waits, And dark my days of trouble fall, Or, will he storm the jasper gate To help me, when I call?

For One of the New Bishops.

LOB ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(To the Editor of The Times:) If the newspapers can be relied on California is to have a share in the officers to be elected next May by the general conference. Among these we are to have at least one bishop. Allow me to suggest that Dr. John L. Pitner of the Westlake church stands as good a change as any one now before the public. He is a delegate, and is more widely known than any member of this conference. He has served first-class charges in Indiana. Himols. Florida. Rhode Island. Connecticut. Minnesota and California. Having been a lawyer, he has a judicial mind, and as an orator he is well known to the entire church. His friends would be glad to see him honored in this way, although he is not seeking the office. As a preacher he equals our beet, and as an administrator he has no superiors. It would sound nice to say "Bishop Pitner." Let us have all the nominations possible ready by next May.

The Egyphoys Home.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I desire to call attention to a fact which may not be generally known. It is this. The News and Working Boys Home at No. 285 San Petro street is a home where all homeless boys may find a rood home by complying with the regulations of the institution. No smoking or profane language is allowed, and all are expected to be in home by 8 p.m., unless by permission of the matron.

I approve of a reading-room up town for newsboys; sies a club for them; but as yet we, as a society, have not been financially able to open one.

Our property is now valuable and the society has decided to sell and build a new and more commedious home for homeless boys and for those who are learning trades or working in this city. Our charges are $1.50 per month, which includes board, lodging and washing. For boys too young for work, or who have no means of support, all is free.

SMALLEST RELIEF MAP.

Los Angeles Man Invents Method of Making With Machinery Most Complete Models in the World.

Complete Models in the World.

John Jamieson of this city has invented a method of making relief maps of the earth's surface by machinery whereby every configuration can be preserved in a tablet no larger than the maps which appear in the United States Geological Atlas, which are on sheets measuring 17½ by 14½ inches, with a scale of one mile to an inch, and in the desert regions four miles to an inch.

in the desert regions four miles to an inch.

A sample of his machine-made relief map of the above dimensions, howing the Sierra Madre Mountains and contiguous region, is on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce, and shows as much detail as a similar map measuring axi0 feet, done in the old way. The designer said yesterday: "I have invented a machine that will measure all the heights and model at the same time, reducing the cost of such maps. Many maps and a very large section of the country can be made in a very small model, and be correct, and the same size as government atlas maps. All the mountains, cafions, deserts, rallroads, rivers and towns can easily be modeled as though they were engraved. All rivers are shown without being outlined with paint. School children can easily learn how to make maps at home with this machine. The relief map on exhibition is the smallest model in the world, so far as I know."

The model will be exhibited at the St. Louis World's Fair.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 16.-[Exclusive RIVERSIDE, Dec. 16.—[Exclusive spatial link has been an abxious ay in official circles and there has been quite a rustle in the tall grass. he jury has been much interested in he manner in which newspapers get heir information and what are their sources of supply.

Mr. Chandler freely gave out all he knew about the so-called Courthouse scandal, which was confined to a short consultation with Mr. Donaldson and a tip given h'm by a prominent citizen of Los Angeles. He further informed the jury that The Times wished Mr. Donaldson to assist the jury in every way possible to get at the truth, but that confidences could not be violated. This proviso was due to the fact that in examining Mr. Donaldson Dist. Atty. Evans insisted that the names of informariza be given. This information was declined and when the jury commanded him to divulge the names of persons from whom he secured information he refused. Not that there was anything to conceal; not that The Times is morally bound to keep faith with all parties giving out information in confidence and who do not for legitimate reasons care to be known in the "graft" investigation.

Mr. Denaldson's refusal to comply with the demand made for the names of informants called a hit in his examination, and the matter was referred to Judge Noyes for an opinion and Mr. Donaldson was ordered to appear Priday for further examination. It is claimed that in the Durrant case tried at San Prancisco several years ago the same question was raised when Judge Murphy punished the journalist for contempt of court. The matter was contested, however, and eventually Judge Murphy was forced to recede from his opinion.

The general impression here is that should the jury call in the contractors. supervisors and all who had a hand in letting the contract and put an expert on a hunt for the "gopher hole" sufficient evidence to convict could be secured without going far from the county seat for information.

Tielding to a general demand, and in deference to a unanimous request from the grand jury, Dist. Atty. Evans will tonight appoint a Democratie Assistant District Attorney to conduct the examinations of the jury. The request was also the place.

This opinion of Judge Noyes is openly ridiculed among local attorneys, who declare that such authorities do not exist. Back of this kick is the fact that Dist.-Atty. Evans and the fact that Dist. Atty. Evans and Judge Noyes are fast friends of Tom Hays, and were both instrumental in boistering him up in the lodge of Eiks. This combination is regarded as too much of a Hays bias, hence the demand for Attorney Gill. Attorney H. L. Carnahan will probably get the job. in the legal field he is regarded as a clean, straightforward man, though harmless.

A prominent citizen of Riverside who was recently before the grand jury is credited with the statement that the investigation is being conducted by incompetents, or that there is no real desire to get at the truth. "I could have told them some interesting talls," said this citizen, "but they didn't ask me. I wasn't going to map out for them a line of procedure. The facts are there and it wouldn't take a Solomon to ferret out the whole nest."

OBJECT LESSON TO AMERICANS FROM PAR-OFF COUNTRY.

Thomas Sawkins, an Australian Journalist, Tells How the Action of the Laboring Classes Wrought Havoo-He Speaks from Long Per-means and secures salvation. That was how the Hon. Samuel Griffith turned the Mcliwraith ministry out of office in Queensland on the labor question: that was how the Hon. Samuel stepped into power, and incidentally became "Sir" Samuel.

GREAT L.LUSTRY THREATENED. "It is not a long story. After some years experience in sugar planting in Northern Queensland, after hundreds of great plantations had been established, and milling machinery at enormout expense imported and placed in position—in fact eight years after the initial planting, where the cane was ready for crushing, it became apparent that the great industry must fall owing to the peculiar labor conditions. White men could not work effectually in the cane fields under the fierce semi-tropical sun. They were unable to withstand the deadly miasma prevalent in the low lying swampy hands. Then, again, the wages that were reasonable for the class of work required of them were such that no white man could be expected to accept. That being so, the white man waited his opportunity, and just when the cane was ready to the west of the cane, to avoid spoiling, required immediate gathering. The demands of the strikers were therefore met and they were jubilant, little heeding that so the result of their action countless numbers of wage earners throughout the country would not only receive no dividend on the investments of their savings, but, worse still, be rendered liable for another payment on call which in thousands of instances necessitated forfeiture. The working man never looked that far, or if he did, looked with "Nelson's blind eye."

"It was at this juncture that Sir Thomas McIlwraith, the then Premier, inaucurated a policy to save the sugar industry. His government introduced into Parliament what was known as the Coolie Labor Introduction Bull-This measure proposed to import from India a sufficient number of coolies to supply the demands of the sugar industry. The coolies were to be of the arricultural clays, and could not by any possibility owne into competition with the white laboring classes. They were to be brought in under binding contract for a certain number of years at a stated wage, and then returned to their own country. Anyone acquainted with the indian coolie knows that he never works out of his class. If he be an agricultural laborer, he remains such this he dies, and by no method of argument would it be possible mous expense imported and placed in

JEFF WILL TAKE MUNROE. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—[Exclusive

Dispatch.] As the result of "Mine Jack" Munroe's decisive victory ove Al Limerick, the giant heavyweight in Boston last night, there will probably be a championship heavyweight battle in the near future, with Champian James J. Jeffries defending his title against Munroe. Jeffries himself is authority for this statement.

Only the sponge saved Limerick from a clean knockout in the fourth round of his bout with the miner last night. Fro mthe very start, Munroe put up a fight that was a revelation to the pectators. His blows went home with nerring alm. He combined ring gen-raiship with wonderful hitting powers. He proved conclusively that he has a "punch," and what is more, he showed that he had learned how to use it. He introduced the famous Titssimmons "shift," and in a little more than three rounds of fighting had Limerick so far gone that another blow would have finished him. Munroe proved that he is a fighter.

When Jeffries learned what Munroe had done, he exclaimed: "Good, I'm glad to hear it. Perhaps Munroe is better than we thought him. Let him put away a couple more good men, and then he can come to me. He'll find me ready to take him on, to give him

DURNELL AND REIFF.

CAN RACE AT ASCOT. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There has been much conjecture in regard to the status of "Boots" Durnell and Lester Reiff, on account of the coming Ascot Park meeting being under the jurisdiction of the Pacific Jockey Club. As is generally known, "Boots" Durnell and Les-ter Reiff are under the ban of the French and English Jockey Clubs. President Williams of the California President Williams of the California Jockey Club has consistently recognized the ruling of foreign jockey clubs, but this is not the case with the Western Jockey Club that controls racing in the Middle West.

This organization permitted Durnell to race, and one of the first things that came up at the recent confab of turf magnates at Los Angeles was this particular matter. The managers of turf magnates at Los Angeles was this particular matter. The managers of Ascot Park admitted that they were against it, and explained that Durnell had been invited to come to Los Angeles, as well as all owners in good standing with the Western Jockey Club. President Williams argued that it would be a good scheme to compromise with Durnell for a money consideration stating that his club would sideration, stating that his club would stand its share. He thought that $2500 would be a sufficient sum in which to recompense Durnell.

After some discussion it was decided that, in view of entanglements in re-gard to the situation, Durnell and Reiff be granted permission to race this season only.

Last evening at Occidental College Chapel the Prohibition League held an oratorical contest between five aspirants for the honor of representing the college in the contest with the other colleges of this part of the State and with the northern universities. Charles F. Bazata received first place and a medal, with J. Percival Hagerman a strong second. The Misses Anita Dodge and Edna D. WILL DILLON GO OR STAY?

Los Angeles First Beseman is up in the Air.

Has an Offer from Brooklyn that May Get Him.

Manager Moriey Cannot Raise Verbal Contract Pr.cc.

Frank Dillon, first baseman for the os Angeles team the past season, will next year. He admitted as much yes terday in discussing the dispatch from San Francisco in The Times yester-day morning to the effect that he had agreed to play with the Brooklyn team city three months ago, but by agreement the story was suppressed until last Tuesday, December 15. The time limit having expired it came to light in San Francisco, being given out by Danny Long, Pacific agent for the Brooklyn team. However, Dillon has not yet signed with the Brooklyn team. The big first baseman talked very freely of the matter yesterday and seemed anxious to have his position understood.

"I guess this will surprise some of the local fans," he stated, "but I have and the tang under consideration for some months, and I will doubtless pay in Brooklyn next season. After sevil saut the taing under consideration for some months, and I will doubtiess pay in Brookiyn next season. After several conferences with Mr. Morley, I told him finally that as I had promised to stay in Los Angeles I would do so if he insisted, but he told me to go if I could better myself. Of course I can get more money there than I can here, and It's a business proposition with me. "When the Los Angeles team was in San Francisco several months ago I received an offer from Danny Long to play on the Brooklyn team. I also received an offer from Danny Long to play on the Brooklyn team. I also received one from the Washington team of the American League, this offer being $2500 for the season. Some days later when Mr. Morley asked me what I had done, I told him I had turned down the Washington offer. The Brooklyn people kept after me, and I finally sent the management my terms and received an answer that the terms and received an answer that the terms and been accepted. That's how the case stands at present. If I go I will play first base, but do not know whether I will act as captain, it having been understood in the original negotiations that I would not charge any extra sum if I — made captain. I didn't have any contract with Morley for next season, but I had a verbal agreement, which is just about the same.

"I have no complaint to make against

"I have no complaint to make against any one here, for no one could have been treated better in Los Angeles than I have been. I do not want any better manager to work under than Mr. Morley, and I am altogether satisfied with Los Angeles. I don't really know what I will do finally."

Manager Morley is naturally the most surprised man in Los Angeles to hear of Dillon's possible jump to Brooklyn. He stated yesterday that Dillon had told him of the offer from Clark Griffifth of $2800 and later, when Dillon found out that it was Washington for him under the contract instead of New York, he told Morley that he would not go to Washington, that the negotiations were off, and that he would be in Los Angeles next year. Morley supposed that all negotiations with eastern magnates were off, and that Dillon would stay here.

Morley says that, although the management did not make any money this year in the baseball business, he went to Dillon after the season closed and voluntarily raised his last season contract price just $400. because he appreciated Dillon's work for the club. Dillon was more than satisfied with this increase. Morley says there is little difference between what he now offers Dillon and the amount of the Brooklyn bid, but that he cannot offer Dillon another cent. Dillon says that if he goes East it will not be until the latter part of February.

Buckley's plan was the boldest that was ever attempted in the sporting line in this end of the State, but he soon found out on arriving here that he could not carry it into execution. He had four reasons for coming to Los Angeles some days ago and during his short stay succeeded in carrying out three of these. One was to assist a relative in building some flats on a certain piece of Los Angeles property; another was to start a friend in the saloon business; a third was to hold a political conference with Abe Reut and Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco on the Democratic-Labor Unión question, and the fourth was to take steps to form a cinch book for the Ascot Park races.

After he had finished up his political business he turned his attention to horse racing, but before the barrier went up for the first event he learned to his sorrow that there would oe an open betting ring this winter at Ascot Park. Heretofore almost every race meeting in this city has been run with a "skindicate" book and Buckley thought in his bilind way that he would be able to do a good business by corraling all the books into a company, charging them what he pleased for the privilege of cutting into the betting ring and then paying the Jockey Club so much per day for his management. He wandered around several days thinking out the details of the scheme, consulted some of his cronies and then came to the sad conclusion that it was easier to fix up a political scheme here with Abe Reuf and Mayor Fiddler Schmits than to attempt to control a betting ring where any booky with a bank roll countrol a betting ring where any booky with a bank roll countrol a betting ring where any booky with a bank roll countrol a betting ring where any booky

The turkey gamble, down on "Nig-ger Alley," to which The Times called attention yesterday, showing what a raw trap it is for fresh suckers, was running wide-open last night.
The crowd was biting pretty freely, encouraged when necessary by the "cappers," who were scattered about. In bild, but that he cannot offer Dilion another cent. Dillon says that if he goes East it will not be until the latter part of February.

COULDN'T RUN THINGS.

BUCKLEY SCHEME FAILED.

Chris Buckley, ex-crib agent, Demoratic politician, blind white devil and all-around fisher of men, has falled in h's effort to skin the aports of Los Angeles by forming a cinch or "skindicate" book for the coming races at Ascot Park. He has returned to San Francisco disgusted with the purity element that is attempting to close the dens of vice and altogether disheartened with the results of his recent Angeles by forming a cinch or "skindi-cate" book for the coming races at Ascot Park. He has returned to San Francisco disgusted with the purity element that is attempting to close the dens of vice and altogether disheart-ened with the results of his recent visit to this city.

Buckley's plan was the boldest that

The province of the many of the win-ning numbers happened to be a "suck-er" he was handed a card calling for a turkey from the Monarch Produce Company.

The risk was increased 100 per cent.

The risk was increased 100 per cent. over what it was the first night, by the stipulation that a winner must hold two cards before being entitled to a turkey. Nobody was observed to be twice a winner during almost an hour's watching of the game.

Finally Capt. Auble and Police Commissioner Keeney appeared on the scene. The stool-pigeons carried the news of their arrival to Davis and in a minute there was something doing.

The boy who handled the dice dropped it as if it burned his fingers, swung his coat over his shoulders and dodged out the back way.

The other helper gathered up the wooden paddles, containing the numbers, and piled them back is the corner.

bers, and piled them back is the corner.

Davis dumped a pile of coin from one cigar box into another, thence into his capacious pocket, and leaned with his elbow on the counter looking as innocent as a dove. There was nothing doing.

Capt. Auble agrees that the game is rank, and that the orders on the Monarch Produce Company are only a subterfure, but said that as he could not find Davis's men cashing up any of the so-called orders for turkeys, he would lack evidence to convict, and no arrests were made.

EMPLOYEES HONOR EMPLOYER.

M. A. Hamburger, of the Hamburger Department Store, who was one of the class of Scottish Rite Masons initiated last night, was given a surprise by his employés quite as great as any surprise he may have had during the initiating ceremonies. Those who have been employed by the Hamburger store more than a year united and gave Mr. Hamburger a magnificent 32nd degree Masonic watch charm, set with diamonds.

PROGRAMME FOR SUNDAY.

The programme for the coursing races at Angeles Park next Sunday will consists of a twelve-dog reserve stake, and an eight dog stake, with consolations for both. The drawing last night resulted as follows:

Reserve stake—Pinto B. and Hindoo Prince, Dangerous Secret and Empress, Jigamaroo and After Freedom, Quitter and Lady Angeles, Los Angeles Boy and Lord Curson, Renown and John Wildwood.

REFORMERS AT WORK. It is not the intention of the referrers to give up all efforts after the first flush of victory. A point that h first flush of victory. A point that has been emphasized ail along is that this movement is not nievely a moral spasm that will quickly pass away. It is the intention to keep the movement for reform active, and plans are even now being formulated for the suppression of the "parior nouses," and the promiscuous serving of liquors in these institutions. Among the crusaders there is general rejoicing over the closing up of the Alameda-street district, but they feel that they yet have a great share of responsibility resting upon them in aiding the officers in the general fight against vice and immorality.

an Injunction.

Darkness like a great mantle of charity, settled down and softly stretched its folds of somber shadow over the erstwhile redlight district last night, as though to gently cover the places where such desecration of th. human form divine and debaucheries of the most ignoble character for months and even years had held their

The 300 members of the demimond. who have been inmates of the cribs and stails, had flown to escape the dragnet of the city's courts.

For the nist time in the history of modern Los Angeles, the ribaid jest, the vugar song, the cheap and flasny show of the synghest, and there agare efforts to win "customers" were not on exhibition for the gaze and gratification of the youths and men who seek such things.

Instead of the myriad of twinkling red lights and the glow of incandescention with the were always a striking feature of these houses of the scarlet women, last night the American section was in complete darkness; the Japanese quarter had but a straggling light or two, that dimity glowed over the narrow passages and tortuous windings of the bilind alleys; the Chinese section was closed as tightly as the proverbial clam, and all that could be heard in the murky; blackness was the occasional swish, swish of some meandering Celestail, as he slid his feet over the cement waiks that pass the crib doors, vainly looking for the almond-eyed beauties who had disappeared as suddenly as their American sisters of the slums.

In "Little Paree," where vice was wont to make its habitat in its most revolting phases, last night the atmosphere was as peaceful and as serene as was that which sarrounded the cross-surmounted old slobe pile just over the other side of the Plass, where the mother of Christianity in Los Angeles, the Church of Our Lady of Angels, stands in its solitude, with a single ray of light glowing before the altar—the perfect symbol of peace and quietude.

Even the rambling old nest of bricks that stands just 50 the south of the notorious "Basket" saloon, and where the "King of Little Paree," wretched old Bartolo Ballerino, spends his leisure hours, and which he calls his home, was silent and unlighted. The only life in the whole tenderion quarter was that shown when idle stragglers, in companies of twos or threes, would venture in a few steps from the Ballesutrorino alley, which runs to the giers, in companies of twos or threes, would venture in a few steps from the Ballesutrorino alley, which runs to the public street, to verify for themselves the report current that the panderars to vice had really flown.

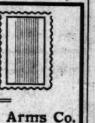

Ballerino is completely disgusted with the city of Los Angeles, its officers and its citizens. It will take at least 250,000, and a perpetual injunction against the crusaders from interfering with his tenants to soothe the old man's ruffled feelings.

John Doe, Richard Roe, Jane and Mar Roe, etc.

Ballerino will ask an award of $20,000 damages for the loss of his tenant and an injunction restraining the cru saders entering upon his property an endeavoring to drive away his tenant

A NEW COLONY. A NEW COLONY.

It was reported in various saloons yesterday that the prostitutes who have been driven out of the cribs are already planning to go down to San Pedro and Long Beach and start up new colonies. It is said that "Butcher Air" is ready to establish a resort just outside the city limits of San Pedro, in the neighborhood of the notorious "Happy Valley," and on the plan of the institution run a few years ago down at that seaport by "Nigger Brown." San Pedro citisens, who heard of the report yesterday, declare they will use every effort to prevent the wome from settling down on that town.

Schlitz Beer

RECEIVES WORLD'S HIGHEST ENDORSEMENT

European government scientist awards Schlitz the highest honor.

From Weihenstephan, Bavaria, the most renowned school of brewing in the world, comes this triumph for Schlitz.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous pronounced best American beer by the Bavarian Government's famous scientific brewer, Prof. Dr. Hans Vogel, Director of the Scientific Station for the Art of Brewing, subventioned by the Royal Bavarian Government. Bavaria is the cradle of the art of brewing.

We spend fortunes on cleanliness.

We clean every tub, every boiling vat, tank or barrel, every pipe and pump, every time we use it.

We bore wells down 1400 feet to rock for pure water,

We cool the beer in filtered air,

We filter the beer by machinery.

We store Schlitz beer for months in refrigerating rooms,

Through the courtesy of Gommerzienrath (Counsellor of Commerce) Dr. Datterer, WEIHENSTEPHAN, Nov. 22, 1903.

I have received several bottles of your beer. I have not only partaken of same, but have also made a searching chemical analysis, the result of which I enclose.

The analysis, as a matter of course, can give no idea of an important feature, the flavor of the beer.

I frequently receive samples of American beers for analyzation, but I can truthfully without flattering, that I never drank a better American beer than yours.

The beer tasted full (round) and fresh, and no trace of the usual disagreeable pasteurization flavor was discernible. Once more permit me to express my recognition.

Where is Arthur Pett?

Chief Elton received a letter yesterday from Mrs. M. Hallock of San Prancisco, making an urgent request that the police of Los Angeles endeavor to locate J. Arthur Pett, a machinist who is known to have been in this city recently. The letter is couched in most appealing terms. It states that Pett's wife is dying and that her one chance of recovery depends upon the return of her husband. Even that may not save her life, but the doctors say it will improve her chances of recovery.

A Pathetic Case.

Admitted His Guilt.

Robert Raines, aged 3, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Haker and Davis on a charge of grand larceny. He stole a bicycle from Mrs. A. H. Seebold of No. 638 South Broadway and gave it to his brother who tried to sell it. The youthful prisoner admitted his guilt, but because of his youth and his family connections, he being a nephew of former Gov. Gage, it is doubtful whether he will be prosecuted. The theft is considered more a childish prank than a crime, the boy heing too young to realize the seriousness of his offense. Stole Horse and Buggy.

Frank O'Donnell, who had been in sail before, was seen by Patrolman Sam McKensle last night driving a spirited horse along Broadway in such a manner as to endanger the lives of pedestrians. It was seen that the driver was drunk, and McKenzle arrested him. When he took the rig to the Police Station it was recognized as answering the description of one reported as stolen from Frank Baiersky of No. 32 West First street earlier in the evening. Baiersky had left his rig at Marchessault and Alameda steets and when he returned fifteen minutes later it was missing. He identified his property later. O'Donnell was charged with grand larceny.

"UNION ARMY" SNUBS POLICE.

"General" Moore Gets Way up His High Horse.

> Asks Contributions for What Seems a Private Enterprise.

Salvationists Say He Collected Money Intended for Them.

Is the "Union Mission Army" en-tified to the consideration of the char-itably inclined people of Los Angeles? much the whole institution, has come down from San Francisco to establish a "shelter" here, and to institute the work of the "Army" 1 our streets. The older military-religious organi-that told of the incorporation of Alvin W. Moore, Eva Moore, Nora-Miller. Cora. Erskins and John Semmons into the "army." It also set forth that the purpose of the army was "the collection and distribution of voluntary contributions of every character from individuals and corporations; such collections to be used for the alleviation of the suffering of the poor and the needy, and the carrying on of missionary and Christian work."

When questioned about the present strength of the "army" the "General" was rather non-committal. At last, in a burst of confidence, he said: "You see I have regular credentials to show that I have been elected president; my wife is the vice-president and secretary, and we have a treasurer, too, Nora Miller, her name was, but she is married now, and has gone to Petaluma to live, so she is not so active in the work.

THE NEW "SHEALAR."

THE NEW "SHELLIAR."

The "shelter" of the "Union Mission Army" is located on the second floor of a frame building at No. 232½ East Fourth street. There in one long room have been set up seventy double-deck iron beds, fitted up with good mattresses, sheets and heavy woolen blankets. Things are all in neat and clean condition, and the concern was opened for business last Saturday night. It has done business from the start, and last night sheltered nine-teen men. The lower beds are rented for 15 cents per night, and 10 cents will get a berth on the second tier.

The "General" has secured a three-years' lease on the entire upper floor, and will fit up the other sections of it, he says, until he can accommodate 100 men. He says each bed represents an outlay of about $300 into the fittings.

The accommodations offered are similar to those to be secured for the same price in almost any of the cheap workingmen's lodgings, and the query naturally arises, if the patrons have to put up regular prices for the lodgings, where does the charity come in, and who is getting the benefit of the donatien by the business men?

THE ARMY'S HISTORY.

"General" Moore was seen last night by a Times reporter, and he became decidedly vigorous in denouncing his detractors and in setting forth the beautiful work of the Union Mission Army. The "General" is one of those men who do not shrink from an interview, and he doubtless would be talking yet, had not the reporter made a fortunate escape.

"There's nothing in the world in all this outcry but pure jealousy," said he. "Why, I've been for twelve years in this work, and for the past six years the Union Mission Army has been a regularly organized body. Three years ago it was incorporated under the laws of California. See, what do you think of that." And the "General" pulled out of a suit case the legal documents ness to come flown into this country to get into that rescue work. Why, I met him on the street the other day, and I was just surprised to find him here. Oh, I know all about his rescue work up North. Well, he isn't rescuing any women just now. But say, he told me he had got $75 worth of furniture from the public all right." And the "General" laughted heartly at the keen humor of the situation.

This meddlesome pest went to Ascot Park on Monday, where twenty-five or thirty painters have been at work on the big grand stand and saddling paddock. In prying around into other people's business he found that six "union" painters were there trying to earn an honest living at their trade. Twenty-five other painters without the union collar were also at work, and the walking delegate at once went to A. M. Allen, architect and foreman of the track work, and asked him to "unionize" the job. This Allen fiatly refused to do, because he declared that he desired to give every man a chance to work if he wanted to. Then the walking pest informed Allen that his "union" men would be called off the job if it was not unionized, and they accordingly quit last night. Mr. Allen says they will not be missed, and the work will go on just the same, there being enough non-union men at the track to finish the work in ample time, and if he needs more he can get them.

The friendship that had existed between the families crumbled away, and since then Taylor has been the Nemesis of Moxley, the debauchee. Mrs. Moxley was broken hearted and returned to her home in Virgina. Severely from Dust on Tracks.

It this latter category, although attong the discuss the question of street sprink-ling is scheduled for today. Late yesterday afternoon it was decided to have a conference at once to consider what should be done.

I have stood ready at any time to call a special session upon the request of the Councilmen, but until today I have been unable to judge for myself what the conditions were The Council has passed an ordinance and the street car companies should obey it, but there are other things to be considered as well."

Among Councilmen there is a disposition to throw the entire responsibility upon the City Attorney. All the railway interests have been diligently at work for several days to force the Council to resume sprinkling, and there is a disposition on the part of the City Fathers to run for cover.

City Attorney Mathews is more than all else a practical lawyer. He knows that the citizens are being put to much annoyance and inconvenience. He knows, too, that the street railway companies are subjected to great additional expense, and that the difficulty of operating the roads will increase as the days go by. But he maintains that these things are essential to the practical conduct of the citys case against the railway companies, and he believes that the citizens, generally, are very anxious that the city should win.

he believes that the citizens, generally, are very anxious that the city should win.

When the cases against the railway managers come to trial before a jury, Mathews believes the prevailing conditions cannot but make an impression upon the verdict. If the railways are put to daily loss in the operation of their cars the test of the ordinance will be rushed through the Supreme Court with all possible expedition, instead of being allowed to drag out a weary length.

with all possible expedition, instead of being allowed to drag out a weary length.

Last night it was reported upon good authority that owing to the loss of electricity because of the great amount of dust on the track the railway companies were hard put to it to supply sufficient "juice" to run the cars. It also appears that the flying dust is doing great injury to the motors of the cars. Several conductors declared to one of the city officials that they would abandon their cars in a day or two rather than suffer from the dust.

These practical difficulties, which the companies are suffering, will do more, in the opinion of the City Attorney, to hasten a decision upon the validity of the ordinance than any other thing that could be devised. It is safe to say that if the city does not resume sprinkling the companies will be even more eager than the city authorities for an early decision.

It is considered doubtful by the City Attorney if the city could enter upon the right of way of the street car companies and do the sprinkling, and then recover the cost of the service through a civil action. He is also interest the control of the service through a civil action. He is also interest the cost of the service through a civil action. He is also interest the cost of the service through a civil action. He is also interest care.

skainst the companies would not help the city"s case.

But the City Attorney is convinced that the operation of cars, or even one car a day, over a dust-laden right of way, is in violation of that clause in the franchise which provides that the companies must keep their rights of way in good repair and in like condition as the rest of the street. Such being the case, is is very evidently a thin the province of the Council to declare the franchises forefited if the companies continue their refusal to sprake their portion of the streets.

In some places the suction of the cars has already worn holes in the cirt beside the rails several inches deep, and a practical railway man predicts that the companies will have infinite trouble with their tracks within a week or two.

One thing is certain, the railway of dicts that the companies will have infinite trouble with their tracks within a week or two.

One thing is certain, the railway officials are bending every energy to force the city to resume sprinkling.

There are some persons who believe that the railway companies did not have a "fair shake" on the sprinkling. Even the attorneys for the corporation at first thought to set up as defense that the corporations never had notice that they must sprinkle. However, the ordinance was passed under the thirty-day clause, although it received the vote of every member of the Council, and its publication is as nuch sotice as is given other citizens of the municipality when penal measures are adopted.

At the special session today Nofaiger, Skilling, Todd, Davenport and possibly Bowen or Summeriand are expected to favor having the tracks sprinkled by the city until such time as the case against the managers can be decided in the Supreme Court of the State.

McAleer is opposed to giving in to as the case against the managers can be decided in the Supreme Court of the State.

McAleer is opposed to giving in to the companies and Kern and Farish are expected to abide entirely by the opinion of the City Attorney. Both Bowen and Summerland may be found in this latter category, although strong influences were at work yesterday to induce them to vote for sprinkling.

Farish came out yesterday squarely and said he would vote in accordance with the views of the City Attorney, in whose hands the Council had intrusted the city's case.

The City Attorney believes that any backward step at this time will prejudice the city's case, and he will so inform the Council today, if his views are asked.

"The City Attorney prepared the sprinkling ordinance at the Council's request," said Farish, yesterday. "Said Farish, yesterday. "Said it was good law and it was passed without dissent. The companies were given thirty days' notice before the measure went into effect. There is no doublathat every person in Los Angeles will feel the effect of the failure of the street-railway companies to conspley with the ordinance. The prevailing conditions constitute a nuisance almost unbearable. The nuisance should be abated at once. But it is futtle for the Council should take any action that the City Attorney may advise. I certainly consider it a matter to be deplored if the city cannot enforce its ordinance or if the taxpayers are compelled to stand the expense while its measures are being tested by the courts."

for $25,000 will probably be the site the new Polytechnic High School. the new Polytechnic High School.

This is the very latest tip on the location of the school, for the construction of which the city voted $200,000 in bonds over a year ago. The money has been lying idle in the city treasury for a month, and Councilmen are determined to begin active building operations in the near future.

for a month, and mined to begin active building operations in the near future.

Ever since F. J. Whiffen, W. R. Ireland and Attorney A. P. Thomson first brought the site to the attention of the Council it has been looked upon with favor by several members of the legislative body. Political, sectional and other interests caused a division between two other sites, but it is now said that the supporters of each are preparing to unite on the Washington-street property.

the supporters of each are preparing to unite on the Washington-street property.

If the selection of this site cannot be brought about within a few days the Council will look about for an entirely new location, it is said.

The Merchanits' and Manufacturers' Association, composed of the largest and most representative mercantile interests of the city, has been taking a postal-card ballot to determine the preference of its members as between the three sites which caused the dead-lock in the Council. The cards thus far returned show a decided preference for the Washington-street site. According to a member of the association the cards sent in are divided as follows:

Washington and Hope-street site, fronting about 180 feet on Washington and Twentieth streets and being 500 feet deep, price $50,000, 80 votes.

Figueros and Eleventh-street and 300 feet on Figueros and Flower streets, price $30,000, 26 votes.

Pico and Wall-street site, fronting 230 feet on Flow street and 340 feet on Washington and Myrile streets, price $34,000, 17 votes.

In all over 400 postal cards were sent out, but the 112 answers received are believed to fairly express the views of the association.

President Bowen of the Council has held out for the Washington-street site from the first. Skilling and Farish voted for it once in caucus. Now it is believed that Norsiger, Kern, Summerland and possibly McAleer will vote for the site in order to break the deadlock. It takes six of the nine votes to determine upon a site. Norsiger, Kern, Davenport and McAleer, it is asserted, will never vote to spend $80,000 for a site. Bowen, Summerland, Farish and Skilling will never vote to spend $80,000 for a site. Bowen, Summerland, Farish and Skilling will never vote to spend $80,000 end site. Bowen, Summerland, Farish and Skilling will never vote to spend $80,000 end site. LT THE COUNTHOUSE. WILLIAM R. LOWRY'S QUARTETTE OF WIVES.

TWO WIDOWS ARE SCRAPPING OVER THE SUICIDE'S ESTATE.

The Deceased Thought that He Had Had One Marriage Annulled, and that Fatal Omission Broke the Legal Continuity of His Married

When William R. Lowry committed suicide recently at 141 Main street he may after all have had more troubles on his mind than the world at arge wot of. Some men are content with one wife, others drive their wives as they wire, others drive their vires as they sometimes do their horses—tandembut the late Mr. Lowry regoloed in a quartette of wives, and from this superfluity trouble ensued.

Lowry's first wife died leaving two children. In 1891, his grief assuaged, he made another essay along matrimonial lines and married again. But for him this was a failure, for in the following year he appealed to the courts of San Bernardino county to annul the marriage. In his petition he averred that his wife had not come up to his expectations, and on the grounds set forth the marriage was a voidable marriage all right. But the case was dismissed and never came to trial. All the same, Lowry made a third venture en matrimonial seas in 1899, when he was married to once Esther Robertson, and by her had a little baby girl who is still living. But conjugal happiness was not for Mr. Lowry, for in 1902 his wife obtained her divorce, and once more he was forlorn and alone—that is, of course, glways remembering that wife No. 2 was still legally tied to him, though each one had gone their separate way.

But extremes meet, and just when Lowry felt at his worst fate ordained that Miss Maud McGahen should cross his path, and the soft nothings of a brief courtship were ended by a marriage, and again Lowry was happy for the time being. Just what led up to the suicide has not yet transpired if court, and as the matter is before Judge Wilbur on the settlement of the estate it may not be necessary for anything of the kind to be shown. At all events, with the death of Lowry wife No. 2 bobbed up serenely to combat the claim of wife No. 4 as to the administration of the estate. The money at stake is not large, only something in the neighborhood of $2000, but that is a great deal when one hasn't got it. Taylor and Forgy are appearing for Newman Essick, who is the nominee for administrator of Mrs. Maud Lowry, John E. Daly appears for Mrs. Maud herself; and Judge Hester and Lou Claibourne. All of yesterday was given up to argument as to the administration of the e him to advise other people about, and that the deceased himself removed the seal of privilege from his lips. On that line the lawyers had a fight among themselves and the battle will be resumed on Saturday.

But the reason why Lowry went off and married his third wife while still legally bound to his second was explained when it developed in evidence that his attorney, Lou Claibourne, had informed aim that his application for annulment of marriage had been granted. Just how it came about that his attorney ventured to give him this notice, and whether he was himself befogged has not yet been shown.

PROY. TREBAOL INSANE.

FRENCHMAN SUFFERS RELAPSE There was a sad scene in court yesterday when Prof. Jean Trebaol, the teacher of languages, who has had an honorable record in the schools of the city, was brought before the Lunacy Commission for examination.

ommission for examination.
He answered all the questions put to He answered all the questions put to him correctly and yet it was apparent that his brain was wandering. seing asked if he was a teacher of the rench language, he replied quickly in the affirmative, saying that the branches he specialised in were French, Latin and Spanish.

"But I teach Greek, too," he added, "and German, and Gaelic, and Weish, and Bretagne, and Sanskrit, if necessary."

"and German, and Gaelic, and Weish, and Bretagne, and Sanskrit, if necessary."

Asked regarding his marriage he said, indicating the little fair-haired and careworn woman who sat by his side:
"Here is my wife, sir, and I neverhad any wife but her," and he bowed to the little woman, as he uttered tha words in such tones as set her to sobbing softly.

Suddenly an idea occurred to the professor. "You are Mr. Guggenheim," he remarked to Judge Wilbur, "and the first friend I had in this city. We first met in the wine cellar downstairs."

Someone remarked softo voce that they hadn't thought that of Judge Wilbur, who is noted for his strong temperance views. But the remark reached the ears of the ineane man.

"The Judge is all right," he said, "and we'll meet there again, but the time is not today."

Prof. Trebael was ordered committed to Highland, and the wife and five childresh will now have to face life alone. Their home is at No. 2227 West Fifteenth street, and it appeared yesterday that they are altogether without resources.

city of Los Angeles, began suit to stop the company from carrying on business.

This action has been begun by the City Attorney in the name of U.S. Webb, Attorney-General of the State, the charge being made that the Independent company has usurped and is unlawfully exercising the franchise of laying pipes in the public streets for carrying gas for heat and power purposes.

The allegation is made that the company never had, nor has it now, a franchise for any such purpose, but, notwithstanding, within the past two years it has laid miles of piping, and is engaged in distributing by means of such pipes gas for heat and power, and threatens to continue to do so.

It is asked that the Independent company be required to show by what authority it is acting, that judgment be rendered that it be ousted and excluded from exercising a franchise which it does not possess, and also that the company be made to pay a fine of $5000.

Last October Sides was arrested for carrying on business as a plumber without a license. The matter seesawed in the courts until the 28th, when he was released. Not, however, that Sides had been actually in jail. He was brought before Judge Trask on habeas corpus in connection with this same matter, and his attorney tried to argue that Sides was constructively under restraint, but the court couldn't see it. MONROVIA EXTENSION TO AZUSA

The established survey for the Pacific Electric Railway Company's line from Monrovia to Glendora shows the continuation of this line will run parallel with the county road on the north until nearly at Azusa. At that point it will take a southeasterly turn and continue in that direction until it reaches the city limits of Azusa, and from thence on will run parallel to the Santa Fé road on to Glendora.

Pending certain formalities regarding rights of way in the immediate vicinity of Glendora, which are now under consideration by the Glendora Board of Trade, construction work will be delayed.

Housewives Advice From Each Other and From Marion Harland

N LOOKING over some of my grand-mother's recipes I find one that calls for half a pound of hartshorn, a you tell me if this is the hartshorn buy at the druggist's? I would like try some of her puddings, but I can't derstand the names.

why DID YOU NOT TELLS US that manner of recipe called for this maxing quantity of hartshorn? The relatile spirits of hartshorn used by our grandmothers was much stronger than our household ammonia. Undinted, it would take the skin from tangue and lips. I cannot imagine that it could be used in housewifery, except in small 'quantities—unless, indeed, in manufacturing a Aast supply of a washing compound. The hartshorn used by our grandmothers was probably the salammonia now used by bakers.

"To the sister who has been so troubled with the 'self-sealers' I would like to recommend my way of sealing those jars, which, with very few exceptions, have been unfailing with all kinds of fruit in three years' experience. The method of wrapping the jar in a wet cloth and placing in it a sliver knife to convey the air upward saves much trouble, as well as time. After screwing the lists on as tightly as possible when first niled with the boiling fruit I turn them again after they have cooled and usually find that they tighten quite a little. Then I take the handle of a silver knife, or something similar, and press the rim of the lid down as flat upon the rubber as I can and turn the lars upside down over night. If none of the jars leaks, out by morning the fruit will keep.

"She also asked for a lemon pie recipe, which, when bolled, would not taste bitter. I think the bitter comes from grating too deeply and getting the white hesh under the rind. I grate very lightly hardly taking all the yellow rind to avoid the white Besh.

"To preserve eggs: Wrap each egg in paper and pack in a box. Put the box in a cool place and turn once a week or ten days, standing it on a different side each time. Washing With Paraffine

I SHALL take the liberty of mailing to you, under separate cover a piece of parafine, mentioned in your correspondent. I have used it about a year and find it excellent. I have recommended it to many acquaintances, because I know it to be a labor saver.

THE "SIMPLEST WAY" IS TO LAY sheets of sticky flypaper close to the walls out of which they creep after dark. They must cross these on their way fo the pantries—and they never get ever! Gather up the papers with their load of carcases next day and burn. Repeat the process nightly until the whole tribe is exterminated.

Borax and red pepper are also highly objectionable to roaches and croton bugs.

Cementing Cracked Glass. Cementing Cracked Glass.

I HAVE a three-gallon fish globe which was cracked recently, I think, by exposure to a draught from a window opened quickly to permit the escape of smoke. The crack is about three inches long and drops about two drops to the minute. If you can suggest any cement or any means of repairing the same you will confer a favor.

ANY GLASS CEMENT BOUGHT from your druggist, or at a Japanese shop, smeared upon the oitside of the globe will hinder the escape of water. Plaster of Paris will serve the same purpose, but will show whitely against the glass.

SAN FRANCISCO, Decembre 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The stormy weather kept buyers away today, and regular trade in the fruit market was dull. Nearly all stores are carrying large stocks of apples, and the prices for medium and low grades were very weak. Only a few straggling lots of grapes in small packages were received, and as there was little demand, prices were largely nominal. The present rain will probably wind up the grape season. All citrus fruits were in ample supply, with easy prices ruling in the work of the control SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Gen, Benjamin J. Viljoen, who was one of the three assistant commandants general in the Boer War, who has just arrived here from Europe on his way to St. Louis, says a plan has been evolved for the reproduction at the Housians.

St. Louis, says a plan has been evolved for the reproduction, at the Louislana Purchase Exposition, of the battle of Colenso, the defeat of Gen. Buller and the British forces on the Tugela, December 15, 1899, and Cronje's surrender to the British on February 27, 1990.

"The unique feature will be the appearance," said Capt. Arthur W. Lewis, who fought on the English side and who came over with Gen. Viljoen, of about six hundred to a thousand men, probably about equally divided between British and Boers, who actually had a part in the hostilities in South Africa. A percentage of the net proceeds will go to the relief of the sufferings of the destitute women and children in the Transvaal."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.:

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—A romance that has been buried nearly half a ventury has been disclosed by the filing for probate of the will made by Alpheus D. Dubois, who had presided over a public school of this city for fifty-three years. He retired three years ago and died Sunday last. The will astonished even his most intimate friends, for it showed that he had amassed a fortune valued at one-quar-

Investigation shows that the professor separated from his wife nearly fifty years ago. She went away, taking their little girl, and neither the husband nor his relatives ever heard from them again. They are supposed to be still alive and in this country, but where no one knows.

Commonwealth Elections in Victor-is Resulted in Many Labor Candidates Being Put in Office.

By Australian Cable.] The first of the commonwealth general elections at which women exercised the right of suffrage was held today with the result that all political calculations were upset. The struggle was chiefly over the fiscal question. The government party, favored protection and the opposition supported free trade, and the third in importance, the labor party, agreed to sink the question of fiscal differences with a view to securing the balance of power which they virtually held in the last Parliament.

The women voters were excellently organized and cast a heavy vote, almost exclusively in support of the labor ticket, regardless of other considerations, the result being that the labor party won many seats, mainly from the protectionists, in districts where the three parties contested. The feature of the results is the remarkable success of the labor vote in Victoria, where at the last elections the laborites were badly beaten.

ASCOT PARK TRACK.

FOR

Four hundred men are rushing things these days at Ascot Park and strain-

A RMED with a loaded shotgun, clad in hardly sufficient clothes to cover his body, and so drunk that he did not know what he was doing. Jimmy Tranor, a jockey, terrorized the neighborhood of Eighth street and Central avenue last night until several officers were sent in a patrol wagon and after a brief struggle arrested him. He stood up a number of persons on the streets, as he stated later, "just to see them jump." Had anyone failed to obey his orders to get off the sidewalk, it is not improbable that the boy would have enforced his commands wifn a load of shot.

Tranor arrived Wednesday night from San Francisco. He says he came south to get a job at the Ascot race track. He brought sufficient money for ing down the seat platforms, putting on cupolas, building judges' and timers' stands, digging trenches, painting the buildings and every conceivable form of work that makes the whole complete. The work makes the whole com-plete. The work makes a very inter-esting scene and it is well worth a visit so the track to see how nicely a big force of men are working to a common end.

CLAREMONT.

FIVE STUDENTS SUSPENDED.

CLAREMONT, Dec. 18.—Fighting over Freshman caps and "tams" has resulted in unusual complications. Two men of the Freshman class have been temporarily suspended and three from the Sophomore class. The college authorities state that the suspension is to extend till February I unless some evidence, not yet received, shall be brought forward in favor of the offending members.

The effect of these suspensions upon the contending classes is precisely like the effect upon the proverbial fighting Irish husband and wife when molested by the policeman. Both contending parties have temporarily turned upon the policeman—in this case the college faculty. The Freshmen met at 1:30 this afternoon to make an animated protest against the action taken by the faculty. The men of the two upper college classes also met and expressed their opinion that the measures taken are too severe. The college authorities take the position that the men who were suspended are those who directly disobeyed the protesting injunctions of members of the faculty during the heat of yesterday's sorap for the posession of the coveted Freshman caps. This direct disobedience—not the general warfare over class headgear—is what the faculty deemed culpable. It also believed that this suspension would stop further hostilities. And it has, Harmony now reigns between the classes.

The entire contention over the permitting of the Freshmen to wear caps and "tams" was caused by a difference in interpretation of the Sophomore victory in football. The "Sophs" say it means, no caps or "tams;' the Freshless say it does. The result is likely to be that the faculty will forbid either class wearing any of its paraphernalia during the rest of the year.

He is known to be a desperate man who would not stop at murder if he met with resistance from a victim. John Reis and three children of Knox Company, Mo., arrived last week and will spend the winter with his son-in-law, Fred Layman.

Los Angeles would be sater without him they have compelled him to seek other fields.

Recently Ryan was released from the Folsom Pententiary and just before he left the prison he told a fellow convict that he intended coming to Los Angeles because he had heard the town was "easy to work." meaning that criminals would find smooth salling here. He had secured a copy of an irresponsible afternoon paper which has been carrying on a foolish campaign against the police department, and what he read in it made him believe he could operate here with impunity.

As soon as he was released from prison he came South but instead of seeking work he associated with dissolute characters. He was out alone a few nights ago when Capt. Auble encountered him. The man was unable to give a satisfactory account of himself and Auble sent him to the Police Station. There the officer recognized his prisoner as Ryan. His picture is in the rogues' gallery and his criminal record is well known to the police here. He expressed amazement that he was caught so quickly and freely admitted that he came here because he had expected to take life easy.

There have been no cases of highway robbery reported to the police since Ryan arrived in the city and therefore the police could not connect him with any crime. He was given his choice between prosecution for vagrancy, and immediate flight. He chose the latter and yesterday afternoon he was escorted to a depot, and left for parts unknown.
